

GILSON ANNOUNCE SEAL OF ASSURANCE FOR UK CUSTOMERS

Gilson has launched a new stamp of approval for its official sales and support centres within the UK by introducing the 'Gilson Seal of Assurance' scheme. Only Gilson UK and its chosen partner Scientific Laboratory Supplies (SLS) have achieved this accolade and are authorised to carry the official logo. The Gilson Seal of Assurance confirms customers will receive the true Gilson experience, support and commitment that they expect from the leading manual liquid handling manufacturers.

SLS has qualified technical professionals extensively trained by Gilson experts on the most up-to-date techniques, products and applications. We are accredited for providing the highest levels of product availability and assistance that Gilson users deserve.

Nicholas Paris, Gilson's Senior Vice President Global Sales and Marketing said: "For decades Gilson has built a reputation for iconic and recognisable brands in the lab, including the Pipetman®. By offering unprecedented technical support and application based solutions, Gilson is empowering scientists to achieve results. Our Seal of Assurance signifies products to rely on from people you can trust."

By choosing to buy Gilson from SLS, customers can be assured that products are genuine, sourced direct from Gilson and fully supported by the manufacturer's warranty.
