Honeywell Research Chemicals - Now available from Scientific Lab Supplies

Dear Customer,

From December 13th 2016 Sigma-Aldrich will no longer distribute, Fluka®, Riedel-de Haën®, Hydranal® and Burdick & Jackson® branded chemicals. However, as a preferred distributor partner for Honeywell Research Chemicals, we are pleased to advise you that SLS will continue to supply all of these Honeywell brands along with their Performance Grade portfolios.

This comprehensive range of over 7000 products is suitable for a number of applications and uses:

- Analytical Applications
- Hydranal® Karl Fischer titration reagent range
- Laboratory Essentials
- Oligo & Peptide solvents and reagents
- Solvents including Chromasolv™ and TraceSELECT™

Honeywell is committed to delivering high-quality, consistent products, backed by over 200 years of innovation in inorganics, solvents and other essential chemicals.

Transfer Now – Avoid Delays

From December 13th 2016, Honeywell's new Fluka and Riedel-de Haën portfolios will no longer be available to buy directly from Merck, Sigma-Aldrich or any other subsidiary.

To find out how to avoid any delays in receiving your products or to place your order, please contact us at:
